

THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON FAMILY PLANNING

I C F P 2 0 1 8

KIGALI, RWANDA

BOOTH 73

JSI staff will present at 8 panels and 2 side events, as well as make 6 poster presentations at #ICFP2018—and visit us at booth 73.

JSI SIDE EVENTS

Wednesday, November 14

7:00 - 8:00AM

Lemigo Hotel

CLOSING THE GAP: ADDRESSING FAMILY PLANNING AT THE COMMUNITY LEVEL

Integrating maternal health services and family planning into community health programs is imperative to achieve the World Health Organization's main goal of Universal Health Coverage. Through this co-hosted event, we will hold a panel discussion and Q&A focused on the increasing access to family planning by strengthening community health systems. Panelists will share their diverse examples of their organizations' successful strategies for closing the gap for family planning.

*Opening speaker: Edna Adan, Former First Lady/
Former Minister of Somaliland*

Moderator: Martyn Smith, Managing Director at FP2020, UN Foundation

Panelists: Peter Kaddu, Living Goods; Yvette Ribaira, JSI/APC; TBD, Community Health Worker

Wednesday, November 14

18:00 - 21:00

Kigali Convention Centre, MH3

PEOPLE AND OUR PLANET: HARNESSING INNOVATIVE PARTNER- SHIPS ACROSS GENERATIONS

This event will raise awareness of how population, environment, and development (PED) can contribute to attaining the SDGs, as well as enhance equity for last mile communities, in alignment with FP2020 goals. The event will inform ICFP attendees about the value of including family planning and reproductive health in other development sectors in holistic ways.

Co-sponsors: Population Reference Bureau with John Snow Inc., Johns Hopkins Center for Communication Programs, and Population Council.

*Panelists: Yvette Ribaira, JSI, Negash Teklu, PHE
Ethiopia Consortium, Hon. Senator Dr. Richard
Sezibera, Senator and Chairperson of the Rwanda
Parliamentarians' Network on Population and Development (RPRPD) Committee, Dorah Taranta,
Pathfinder International, Harriet Davies-Mostert, Endangered Wildlife Trust.*

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13

14:35 - 15:55

Auditorium Club 3

Panel I.3.15 What do we know about population, health, and the environment?

Se réengager dans la Santé Population Environnement à Madagascar, Quelles contributions de la Planification Familiale, Yvette Ribaira

15:00-18:00,

Poster Session 3, Auditorium Terrace

3.063 Using survey and demographic data to forecast contraceptive implant demand underestimates true needs, Laila Akhlaghi

3.064 Strengthening the supply chain workforce through mentorship and on-the-job training in Indonesia, Hery Firdaus

3.071 A data centric approach to driving supply chain efficiency in Indonesia, Hery Firdaus

16:20 - 17:40, Panel, AD7

Panel I.4.5 The promise of new methods—going beyond “the what”: monitoring and evaluation challenges for projects using human-centered design

Examining the influence of design thinking on project outcomes using a mixed method comparative case-study approach, Natasha Kanagat

Auditorium Club 3

Panel I.4.14 Contraceptive commodity security: management, supply chain, and logistics

Placing people, data and processes at the heart of supply chains improvement through IMPACT teams in Guinea, Kenya, Myanmar and Indonesia, Yasmin Chandani

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14

7:00 - 8:00

SIDE EVENT: Lemigo Hotel

Closing the Gap: Addressing Family Planning at the Community Level, Yvette Ribaira, JSI/APC

11:30 - 14:30

Poster Session 5, Auditorium Terrace

5.020 Filling the void: Community- and facility-based social and behavior change communications to increase demand for and use of family planning in Covalima Municipality, Timor-Leste, Elia dos Santos and Elaine Rossi

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14 (continued)

13:25 - 14:25

Table Topic Lunch Session, Table 11

Advocacy for improving supervision of community health workers, en Francaise, Nancy Harris Pendarvis

15:00 - 18:00

Poster Session 6, Auditorium Terrace

6.024 Becoming a model municipality: using a holistic approach to improving quality of care for family planning in Covalima Municipality, Timor-Leste, Antonio Do Rego Mesquito and Elaine Rossi

18:00 - 21:00

SIDE EVENT: Kigali Convention Centre, MH3

People and Our Planet: harnessing innovative partnerships across generations, Yvette Ribaira

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15

8:00 - 11:00

Poster Session 7, Auditorium Terrace

7.074 Which family planning methods can community health workers provide? Policy data from 25 countries, Kristen Devlin

11:55 - 13:15

AD7Panel 3.2.5 Judging the nudge: what works (and what does not) in applying behavioral economics to family planning and reproductive health?

Behavioral economics approach to reduce injectable contraceptive discontinuation rate in Ethiopia: A matched-pair, cluster-randomized field study, Ali Karim

MH1Panel 3.2.8 You can't manage what you can't see: the global family planning visibility and analytics network (Global FP VAN) and contraceptive commodity security

The power of technology: an innovative approach to system selection and technology Implementation, Alexis Heaton